World Heritage Suganuma Gassho-style Village in Gokayama

◆ Stroll around the village

<http://www.gokayama.jp/english/index.html>

◆ Suganuma Gassho-style Village is a place where you can refresh your spirit and be at peace. You can fully savor the traditional Japanese community in lush nature and also enjoy facilities that offer the chance to experience the village's history and tradition.

In this village surrounded by the abundance of nature, 9 gassho-style houses are still active today. These include the Gokayama Folk Museum where visitors can learn the history of Gokayama, and the Ensho-no-Yakata building where visitors can gain a sense of the Japanese forefathers' lifestyle.

Visitors are charmed by the village's rich natural environment, history, generations of culture, and pure-hearted locals.

Wakatsuru Sake Brewery

◆ Brewery tour and Sake tasting

◆ Toyama is known for its towering 3000m high Northern Alps. To the west of the Alps lie Tonami Plains and Sankyo-no-Sato village, where top-quality rice is grown and the pure water feeding the Sho river originate. The Wakatsuru Sake Brewery is located in this rich area where the perfect ingredients for sake are readily found. Since its establishment in 1862, the Brewery has continually been striving for better sake.
